

Miguel R. Dumlao

I started my life in Ateneo with a quote, “One day, I will say ‘I did it.’” That day is today. I will forever be grateful to my friends who helped me overcome all academic requirements. Thank you to my family who always kept the front door open whenever I got home late. And most importantly, thank you God for your never-ending guidance and for keeping me strong throughout these 4 years.
I DID IT!

EXT. ATENEO. DAY. Upon a hill across a blue maze, she gets herself lost once more in the campus that has constantly found her. As she walks through the halls and paths of mad and glittering memories, she whispers her infinite gratitude and bittersweet goodbye: until always, Ateneo.
