

John Gabriel M. Gatchalian

“How lucky I am to have something that makes saying goodbye so hard.” (A. A. Milne)

Sixteen long years and I’m finally going down the hill. To all the nights that never ended, cups of coffee downed, bottles of beer chugged and everything in between, we made it. For challenging me, showing me reality, breaking me apart, and piecing me back together, thank you Ateneo.

Megan Dominique U. Go

Meg is one of the most genuine people you will ever meet in life. An honest and compassionate friend and a very hardworking and diligent student. She never fails to put others first, especially the ones dearest to her. You can always expect her to brighten up the mood, for this girl is funny, witty, and definitely extraordinary. A life spent with her would be a life that will never contain any dull moments, not even for a second.