

SOCIAL SCIENCES TRACK

Terzeus S. Dominguez

I still haven't jumped off the edge, and I can still remember what it feels like to love and to be loved.

I still haven't found what I'm looking for, but I know it's still there.

I have five hundred more characters to write with from last year's yearbook, but it's still not enough to say how grateful I am.

This is my second try.

And this time, it's for sure.

I'd like to thank God, my family (shout out to my mom and dad), my friends, block mates, and teachers/professors for helping me get here. Thank you God. Thank you Ateneo.
