

Julius Caesar L. Castillo

All the subjects I took under different professors and the lessons I learned from them, all the failures and triumphs, all my friends and all my memories with them – these are part of me and have molded me into who I am today. All my struggles in Ateneo made me courageous. I have taken so many leaps and now, I will take my biggest leap yet into the sea of life to find purpose and true happiness. To all my professors, friends, comrades, loved ones, and to the Ateneo, I give you my utmost thanks.
