Miracles happen everyday. Sometimes, it's this grand and undeniable miracle: class suspensions, free cuts, or unexpected A's. Other times, it's in small and inconspicuous miracles: a smile from a friend or a stranger, a bar of Kitkat, or just having that extra hour of sleep. In the darkest days, remember that there is always a miracle to be thankful for. You'd then realize that you got through, simply because there was never a shortage of grace and that God is in both the big and small miracles.
