

MINOR IN CHINESE STUDIES

Dielle T. Tio

“When we love, we always strive to become better than we are. When we strive to become better than we are, everything around us becomes better, too.” (P. Coelho)

In all ways, choose to love, and love, and love all over again. Always. Salamat, Ateneo, for teaching me what it meant to love. To take that leap. As I take one last look at the view from the hill, I pray you teach me how to say goodbye as well.

God, my God, as I am Your sheep, take away my wool.
That I may be bare in Your love,
That I may be vulnerable to Your grace,
That I may be weak to Your will.
If I fall into the ravine,
Will You come look for me?
