Ateneo has taught me the value of knowing my own worth and that of others. Here I was provided the inspiration to pursue passions I never knew I had, as well as break down the boundaries I had set for myself. Here I have gone from being a shy freshman to someone who is finally comfortable in her own skin, fully aware of her strengths and limitations. It is also here that I have come to be aware of the realities of the world, yet have also been taught to believe that I am capable of changing it.

Resilience, perseverance, and camaraderie—these words have been the theme of my college life. For the past four years, I have experienced difficulties that I have never faced. In spite of the challenges and the general feelings of being lost and confused, I am grateful for paths that I have chosen. With the help of my peers, and the willingness to become better, I have had a great time adjusting, grinding, and bonding with the people I love. Thank you everyone!
