Studying in the Ateneo for 16 years has opened countless opportunities for me to grow. The successes in class presentations, sleepless overnights to accomplish a project, eye-opening lectures, humbling outreaches—all of which bore fruit in the values and the kind of person I am today. The journey had its peaks and valleys and will still do in the new journey ahead. But I will always look forward to each opportunity to grow.

“Never restrict yourself from growing. You deserve to grow.” (Jo Cortez)
