I started as a naive freshie, a distressed sophomore who took a LOA, returned a determined junior, felt lost as a senior, and found my home as a super senior. Now, I leave rougher around the edges, surer about some things, less so about others, but ready for what's next. I love a good toast, so here it is. To my unflinchingly supportive family and friends, to the ones we've lost, the drinks we shared, mistakes we've made, wisdom we gained, to all the places we've been and have yet to go, Cheers!
