

DOUBLE MAJOR IN AB ECONOMICS-HONORS

Alain Mikael S. Alafriz

While everybody else is busy finding ways to make the world a better place, Friz' life paradigm is all about taking in its beauty and being awesome in the sidelines. Friz has an incredibly deep appreciation for a multitude of things: convoluted music, philosophical conversations, "normal" music, science, math, history, alcohol, the wonderful art of bodybuilding, and the even-more-wonderful art of having fun. That said, Friz' inherent chillness keeps him afloat despite such intense interests.

Uncertainties have always been terrifying for me, but my journey in Ateneo has taught me that sometimes, it's the uncertainties that lead us to our truer selves. Here's to my family, friends, people whose paths collided with mine, and coffee shops that took me in. Here's to last-minute ideas and getting through days without sleep, answers found and questions yet to be answered, and times of almost giving up and eventually fighting fear. Thank you all and thank you, Ateneo. I'm finally here.
