

MINOR IN ENTERPRISE DEVELOPMENT

Michelle Stefanie T. Chan

A woman with the strongest convictions and the most charming of personalities, people like Michelle Chan are few and far between. Easily the most approachable chinita you'll ever meet, Michelle always wears a bright smile even when she's stressed beyond belief (which is often the case with her work in SoMBA and Ateneo Lex). Life might get tough, but if everyone saw the world as she did, it'll never be boring.

MINOR IN FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

Ric Duane E. Chavez

Leave no room for fear. This is the greatest lesson I've learned in Ateneo. Although you run the risk of failure and falling, of being wrong and criticized, the benefits far outweigh the costs. Because alongside these risks comes the joy of basking into the light. You meet new people, learn new skills, and ultimately develop as an individual. So never be afraid and always do it for the glory of One.
