

Anna Danielle D. Mortel

In her eyes the stars shine, and beauty radiates in her soul. Amidst trouble she does not resign in the pursuit of her goal. Difficult times when anyone would have faltered; the moments you just stop and stare, your whole worldview being altered. These moments came but she did not let them take her fire. She responded the same. It did not outweigh her desire for making the world a kinder place, making it for all. Her entire being acts with grace, faithfully answering to her call. (J.Pineda)

Paula Gabrielle C. Mutuc

Paula sees sunrises more than sunsets – she always finds the good side of life, and this is why everyone enjoys her company. She never fails to encourage and motivate the downhearted, always coming up with a way to make the people around her distinctly feel special. She has a gift of genuineness that touches the hearts and inspires the souls of those who truly know her. This will undoubtedly bring her to places with her hardworking attitude and passionate commitment to what she does. (P. Santos)
