College has been all about taking our chances and grabbing opportunities within our reach. Unfortunately, we eventually commit mistakes and we become afraid of committing more mistakes. However, a mistake is an opportunity in itself. It is an opportunity for personal growth. Not only do we learn about our shortcomings, but we also learn about our fears and doubts. We then improve ourselves. Go. Don't be afraid of making mistakes. Our mistakes do not make up who we are but who we can become.
