

MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

Leigh Genevieve G. Raymundo

It's funny, what's happened in the last four years. From wasting time in the morning to struggling staying up at night. From feeling all the highs to finding comfort in the lows. From meeting people who'll just pass by to keeping some of them for life. From accidentally skipping meals to eating n times a day. From cramming requirements in school to bringing home redmundo. From learning about management to learning about life. None of these do I regret. Thank you, Ateneo, my dear, dear friend.

MINOR IN FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

Paula Christiana H. Remulla

My four years in Ateneo can be condensed into one theme: Being strong in the face of adversity. In the past years, I have faced countless moments wherein I wanted to give up. But after experiencing all those sleepless nights and nerve-racking deadlines, I learned to seize opportunities and continue fighting no matter how hopeless the situation may be. Though my experiences in Ateneo may not all be good, it has made me capable of facing any challenge bravely, knowing that I can and will survive.
