

MINOR IN FINANCE

Leo Jeremiah Arnel O. Caayao

Before I entered the Ateneo, I was a mere teenager waiting for his dreams to be fulfilled. After 4 years of Ateneo education, I realized that dreams cannot exist without reality; that the more I dream, the more I should be rooted to what is happening around me. The Ateneo gave me the skills needed for employment but also instilled the necessary virtues to strive in life. The four years were just part of a larger cycle wherein dreams and reality intertwine, where failure and success happen.

MINOR IN FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

“One of the most calming and powerful actions you can do to intervene in a stormy world is to stand up and show your soul. Soul on deck shines like gold in dark times. The light of the soul throws sparks, can send up flares, builds signal fires, causes proper matters to catch fire. To display the lantern of soul in shadowy times like these – to be fierce and to show mercy toward others; both are acts of immense bravery and greatest necessity” (C.P. Estés)
