Josen Joseph P. Uy

“Josen is wrought with uncertainties that only other people are certain about. We are certain, for example, that his eyebrows are so fierce that he could model with them. But Josen is so often down to earth that he would never imagine himself on a pedestal. But that’s what makes him special. His humility reflects in the way he selflessly empathizes with others without any hint of self-centredness. This is why he has touched the hearts of so many during his stay in Ateneo.” (H. Nolasco)
