Ateneo isn't for the comfortable. It will be a struggle, and nothing will ever come easy. Limits will be pushed, and boundaries will be challenged. But that's why we have to finish strong – no one ever grows by being safe and sheltered. Let's remember what these past four years have shared with us: that the best lessons are learned through hectic mornings, frantic nights, and the magic that we make happen in between.

Jeanne Arielle Denise O. Siy

Jeanne is undoubtedly ambitious. She entered college determined to make a name for herself and eventually established herself as a leader. Many look up to her, and she doesn't disappoint; she spearheads numerous projects with a passion that cannot be matched by any other. Yet amid all her endeavors, she never forgets to be selfless. Beyond her own growth, she contributes to and rejoices in the growth of others. Surely, Jeanne will go places, all the while being there for those she cares for.
