“We’ve barely begun... our greatest accomplishments cannot be behind us, because our destiny lies above us.” (Cooper, Interstellar)

Life is all about taking risks, making mistakes, and challenging our limits. In Ateneo, I learned to constantly open myself to new things, to never settle, and most importantly, to enjoy every moment. I used to be ashamed of all my failures and shortcomings, but now, I appreciate them for teaching me how to get back up again and to keep moving forward.
