I have learned so much from every challenge and struggle I've faced. Thank you, Ateneo, for the learning experience, and for letting me grow with you.

Layag sums up the Ateneo experience, a voyage characterized by this quote: "God promises a safe landing, not a calm passage."

Despite the struggles in my Ateneo journey, I've made it. And yet I realize that the journey is not yet over; Ateneo is just a stop-over, and there are much greater things ahead. I thank everyone who's helped me through both the highs and lows of my journey and vow to continue sailing on while also helping others complete their journeys along the way.
