

Sabina Angela D. Mañosa

Sab is complicated. You're never sure if you want to kill her, hug her, or do both. She's a living paradox, a big talker with the brains to back it up, a prankster with a brutally honest nature. Rallying people is second nature to her, and she could easily start a cult about something that she finds amusing. She tiptoes right at the line but never crosses, and is unabashedly herself, even when it's a little messy and chaotic. She is someone you would follow into the dark.

Jose Ignacio P. Mapa

“Choose to do good. Swim against the flow of the current if you must. Live life striving to see the beauty in all of creation, showing love in all actions, and appreciating the human ability to smile. Don't just set out to change the world; do what you are passionate about every day, and eventually, the world will change. “Stay hungry. Stay foolish.” Never allow fear to hold you back. Be a dreamer. Be compassionate. Be selfless. Sacrifice is the greatest act of love one can give.” (S. Jobs)
