

Matthew C. Bernardo

I would like to leave with a few last words. Enjoy every moment of your life and don't give up. Make time to hang out with friends and enjoy school life. Despite the difficulties, struggles, and hardships, it will be all worth it in the end.

Thank you to the professors that guided me in college. Thank you to the friends I made in school. Thank you for giving me these four years of my life.

MINOR IN DECISION SCIENCE

Karljohn Alexis C. Billan

Time flies when you are with good company, and I cannot believe that it has been four years since I first met Karljohn. I watched him grow as he went through all the ups and downs of college life. He has always been able to get the job done, and he is the type of person that can be relied on even when the going gets rough. Couple this with his competitiveness and desire to fulfill his passion, and I strongly believe that he will be able to attain success in all the years to come. (M. Guinto)
