

MINOR IN HEALTH AND DEVELOPMENT

Julianne C. Ang

Konting gapang na lang.

Be it during a week full of long tests, days before an org project, or now – senior year – these words have crossed our minds at some point. Ateneo has thrown many challenges our way – challenges we sometimes didn't think we'd get through. As we realize how far we've come, we also see how much lies ahead.

Graduation is not the end of the gapang; it is the beginning of many more. And I stand today knowing that Ateneo has shown me that I have what it takes to keep going.
