

Renato Allen A. Casas, Jr.

“I am warlike by nature. To attack is part of my instincts. To be able to be an enemy, to be an enemy—perhaps that presupposes a strong nature. It needs resistance, therefore it seeks resistance: the aggressive pathos belongs just as necessarily to strength as the feelings of vengefulness and pitifulness belong to weakness.” (Friedrich Nietzsche)

Louise Ray R. Deleste

A write-up might not fully encompass a decade's worth of knowing, and being best friends with Rocky Deleste. I have much to thank my best friend for changing my life some ten years ago, and so do all of us who have our own stories and unwritten testaments to him. I am proud of you, Rocky. We all are. When in doubt, look back to this write-up; people believe in you, and people are fortunate to journey with you. Salamat sa libang pakain at pina-write-up mo ako. (Mico Echiverri)
