

MINOR IN DECISION SCIENCE

Sean Tristan L. Yu

To all my professors, thank you for imparting to me invaluable knowledge and wisdom.

To the craziest and truest friends that I met in college, thank you for all the ventures we did and memories we shared.

To my parents, thank you for providing my needs and loving me unconditionally for who I am.

To my future self, continue to hold on to your values and who you are. Always remember to look up and see the grandiose of the stars above that shines so bright amidst the darkness.
