Scholarships. I've maintained a full scholarship all throughout high school and college, all because I want to thank my parents for all the hard work they've put into raising me, and to make sure I lighten their burden in any way possible. I offer my graduation to my mom in heaven, and to my dad who's never left my side.

Here's to the unforgettables I'll forever be grateful for:
Friends who kept me sane through it all; high school friends who stayed constant throughout; blockmates who made adjustment to the Ateneo life so much easier; professors who challenged us to grow; seatmates who woke me up whenever I fell asleep; bonds made over overnight working sessions; carpoolmates who made the commute bearable; my family, which was my rock throughout; and God, who made all this possible.
You guys are the best.
