

MINOR IN COMMUNICATION AND SOCIOLOGY & ANTHROPOLOGY

Ramon I. Mozo

College has taught me how to be thankful; for my passions, my desires, my shortcomings and my failures, my family, my friends, my professors, the alumni, my school, my country, my world, and my God. For all the lessons I have learned, all the moments I have experienced, all the blood, sweat and tears I have shed, and all the people I have met along the way, thank you.

Darlene Hannah Jane R. Nolasco

To see life through Hannah's huge doe eyes is to see excitement in every opportunity. She rides every wave life throws at her with a curious smile on her face and with her heart securely fastened on her sleeve. She is passionate and restless, creative and genuine; always busy with a worthy cause. Though she is often her worst critic, her determination always exceeds her self-doubt. That's the Hannah we know and love: always in the process of challenging and redefining her own limits. (J.R.)
