

John Matthew D. Ong

“The future you see is the future you get.” (Robert G. Allen)

Antonio Angelo O. Rabe

In building a circuit it is important to find the right components for it to function properly. I have spent five years in Ateneo looking for and finding the components in my life which bring me true happiness. I learned to appreciate the life skills each subject conveys. I realized the importance of the support of friends and family. I learned to go beyond my own needs and lend a hand to others.

Ateneo shaped me into becoming more than just an engineer. It helped me become a better human being.