

MINOR IN LITERATURE

Karina Isabella P. Jalandoni

There is a quote from Willa Cather's "My Antonia" that says, "that is happiness, to be dissolved into something complete and great." Karina is like this. She is happiness; she dissolves into great things. From orgs, to friendships, to studies, she always dives headfirst, excitedly, and wholeheartedly. No one else can have the same drive for life as she does, and at the end of the day, still have so much to give to those around her. (S. Mañosa)

Boris Jeremiah E. Jao

From remembering what happens at every Blue Eagle basketball game to taking the most legendary professors, I can say that Boris is a true blue-blooded Atenean. He is relied on by many friends as he exhibits resilience under pressure and never fails to uphold the spirit of Magis. His journey definitely doesn't end here; as this concludes a chapter of his life, another opens a bigger world for him. He will definitely fly to greater heights. (K. Billan)