MINOR IN DECISION SCIENCE; MINOR IN CHINESE STUDIES

Daniel Dickson G. Yu

When I first entered Ateneo, I felt the burden of proving my self-worth, but my confidence to dream about success slowly grew with every achievement. All the early morning classes and late night trainings taught me that discipline is the bedrock to my growth, and as I step into the real world, I remain thankful for all the opportunities and invaluable lessons Ateneo has given me. Being Atenean isn't just one big memory, but rather a billion little ones that have made me who I am today.
