

MINOR IN DECISION SCIENCE

Isabella G. Gonzales

Through the tough papers, dreadful oral exams and defenses, and mind-boggling long tests, Ateneo has cracked me out of my shell and shaped me into an improved version of myself. I now think more critically, dare to question and rethink, and most importantly, am more aware of the realities of today. As a new chapter unfolds, I want to thank Ateneo for making me better-equipped for what is to come. Truly, no other university does it the way Ateneo does.

Jessica Denise B. Gonzalez

A woman of wit, mistress of mischief, and lover of life – to all those who know her, Jessie Gonzalez has the uncanny ability to find the humor in any bad situation, mostly because she has experienced it all. And that's what makes her one of the strongest people you'll ever meet. This girl has a knack for getting herself into a mess, only to prove to everyone that she can survive whatever life throws at her. She took Ateneo by storm. Careful, real world, you're up next.
