“Life waits for no one. Moving through the days feeling lost, heart in the hays, holding back what you want to say, waiting to be yourself another day. All your dreams and desires put on hold to be fulfilled maybe when you’re old. You aren’t doing it right. You aren’t living your life. Eventually is not okay. Why tomorrow when there is today?” (C. Franta)

For readying me for the adventures ahead, thank you Ateneo!
