Choose to do good. Swim against the flow of the current if you must. Live life striving to see the beauty in all of creation, showing love in all actions, and appreciating the human ability to smile. Don't just set out to change the world; do what you are passionate about every day, and eventually, the world will change. "Stay hungry. Stay foolish" (S. Jobs). Never allow fear to hold you back. Be a dreamer. Be compassionate. Be selfless. Sacrifice is the greatest act of love one can give.

If college is just the beginning, I cannot wait to find out what is next. Ateneo has taught me that the lessons you learn outside of the classroom and the memories you make with the people you meet along the way are always going to be the most valuable. The past four years have taught me that it's always important to work hard and manage my time. Most importantly, college has helped me emerge as the person I am supposed to be, and I will cherish these years forever.
