

Samantha Ross M. Roque

I have survived shipwreck after shipwreck and here I am still. I've come across the highest of waves and the deepest of trenches. Lost friends, broken hearts, and not-so-high grades make every friend, heart flutter, and great LT brighter. Fear will never leave me but sailors of stormy lands always build stronger ships. It took a journey of whole worlds to discover myself. Now, as I drop my anchor at a land of gray uncertainty, I look back at the bluest sea that made life explode with color.

MINOR IN JAPANESE STUDIES

Denisse V. Sibucan

Denisse is a lady with a sensitive heart and a soul so strong; one who keeps on smiling in spite of the acads, hunger, love problems, and responsibilities. Behind all the “Ayoko na” and emotional outbursts is a heart that keeps on fighting. Through the years in Ateneo, she has been changed and has changed so many lives as well. Though she is not complete — not yet, she strives to be, one journey at a time with and for the people she loves, backed by her memories and dreams.