

Paulina Michaela M. Villaflor

Truthfully, I am not ready to embark on a new journey, but here in Ateneo, I learned to be more willing than ready. I am not ready for the unexpected, but I am willing to be more courageous. I may not be ready for the expected, but I am willing to be stronger. I am not ready to fail, but I am willing to grow further. I may not be ready to leave, but I am willing to go forth as the person Ateneo has shaped me to be. And for that, I am forever thankful.

Stephannie Ellen G. Yapco

Even after four years, Steph never ceases to amaze me. From selling stickers of her own character, Noogi the Seal, to creating posters for events, Steph's passion for the arts is second to none. Funny and gullible, she never fails to always put a smile on my face. Her strong sense of independence allows her to reach for any goal she sets for herself. Whatever life throws at her, Steph is always ready to face it.