What I wanted from college: to experience diverse new perspectives with my newfound freedom. To learn about love, pain and everything in between. To learn about commitment and being a woman for others. And to prepare myself for the adult world.

What Ateneo taught me: Math. To survive an all-nighter. Some Math. To cram ten-paged papers the night before the deadline. More Math. To endure hell weeks and hell days. And did I mention Math?

I got all I needed, and even more. Thank you, Ateneo.
