His greatest inspirations are his sisters. Competitive yet chill, Jong may seem like the typical mean and abusive person – and he definitely is. However, beneath his tough exterior is a big heart anyone can undoubtedly see (hear, actually) when they hit KTV bars and hear him belt out his feelings like there's no tomorrow. He may not be a great singer, but he's a great friend whom anyone would be lucky to have. (S. Sayson)

To you who matters most to me:
Never forget there are people who love, care for, and support you. Never forget your greatest goal, your blood, sweat, and tears, your success, your suffering – everything that's brought you where you are now. Be the strong, independent woman I've envisioned you to be. Be the perfect version of your imperfect self. Remember that in your lowest points, there's nowhere else to go but up. I'm counting on you. Don't be afraid to make our dreams come true.
Cheers!
