

MINOR IN DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

Gillian Angelica B. Guzman

It's the people that make the place. College would not have been as life-changing or enjoyable without the people I met along the way. In Ateneo I met driven and passionate individuals, studied under brilliant teachers, worked with people who challenged me, and found my true friends. I have never felt so inspired to do and be better than when I was surrounded by these people. So, thank you, Ateneo, and thank you, Batch 2017. College definitely wasn't easy, but we all got through it together.
