

MINOR IN EDUCATION

Jia Ren Nicholas M. Yen

I entered this University in a science course and now I'll leave it with a degree in humanities and a minor in the social sciences.

Block NN, the first group of friends I made as a freshman; Musmos, my family here in Ateneo for about five years; and my adoptive block in creative writing helped me to learn more about myself.

They helped me realize one thing: Accept you for you, don't apologize to anyone for who you are and what you like because those are what makes you unique.
