

Earlene Louise D. Escalona

“True strength is keeping everything together when everyone expects you to fall apart.” (Anonymous)

MINOR IN DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT

Gene Maxime A. Espeleta

Kopiko-infused all-nighters, grueling tests, heavy requirements, and everything in between—Ateneo threw at me challenges I never thought I’d be able to handle, yet in the end were things that I was able to successfully overcome. It was here that I was given the privilege to meet brilliant and passionate minds that inspired me to be the same, and, as a professor once said, “to cross that darned sea” and take risks. For all that happened in the Ateneo, thank you!