Janicelle Marie I. Dimaano

As I take my shore leave from the waters of Ateneo, I say “Cheers!” to all the people who made the journey with me: my parents who have always been my anchor, with whom I hold myself grounded; my professors, who I thought seasoned the waters have always been my fountains of knowledge; and my captain, my God above, You never fail to direct me to Your path. Lastly, I will carry to my next journey an important thing I learned from Fr. Roque Ferriols: “Laging meron pa.”
