

MINOR IN GLOBAL POLITICS

Angelica Beatrice S. Natividad

Well-rounded and thoughtful – two words that best describe Anj. She manages to get those A's while training for futsal and volleyball, and partying every so often with friends. Truly, she's a master of time management. Aside from that, she's very caring and reliable. She can turn your frown upside down with her witty humor and thoughtful gestures. You're definitely lucky to have her in your life, and it's a shame for those who haven't met the Lily Collins of the Ateneo. (M. de la Paz)

Eunice Ira E. Nevalga

There's no doubt that college wasn't always an easy journey—there were highs and lows but here we are now, closer to the destination. Through Ira's passion and commitment, she was able to get to where she is now. Her secret to success is to give your 100% in everything that you do and to do everything wholeheartedly.

This is only the beginning and the world has so many more opportunities to offer, but the life lessons she's learned inside and outside the campus, she will always carry with her.
