

MINOR IN FRENCH STUDIES

Justin Mivan V. Ong

The last four years were a whirlwind. However, looking back, I'm thankful for all the wonderful experiences Ateneo has given me, from being a part of orgs and meeting new people to finding myself. Above all, I'm grateful for the confidence I obtained to step out of my comfort zone--to take a leap of faith and just jump. As I head towards the unknown, I'll carry this confidence with me wherever I go, no matter how bumpy the road may be. And yeah, all these experiences, I'll remember forever.

"Math is a wonderful thing."

From a boy in wonder, Lu soon became "The Star of Asia."

Landing in Ateneo meant challenge but fulfillment. Reports are not his type, but that's what friends are for! His passion for math grew, but teaching made the journey more worthwhile. It is a joy to excel in math, but Lu gives all thanks to God for His provision.

Sailing on, he hopes to be one of advancement, servitude, and humility. This rabbit is no longer in his hole, but is now out for more carrot quests!
