From the freshie walking to class ten minutes before the first bell, to the senior jogging at the sound of the second bell with only a pen and two cuts away from a W--that's what four years in Ateneo will do to you. Maybe it was the papers you had to finish, or you just woke up late from a night that shouldn't have happened. Either way, lessons learned on and off the record are ones that I had the privilege of having in the first place. And I can only hope to hold onto them and keep learning.

MINOR IN KOREAN STUDIES; MINOR IN THEATER ARTS

Carmel M. Ilustrisimo

Ateneo taught me two things: to never give up on the first draft, and that there is no such thing as a final draft.
