Ateneo.

Thank you for the heart-stopping deadlines, the gut-wrenching orals, the coffee-infused all-nighter projects, the month-long supposed hell weeks, and the breakneck ravenous experience of enlistment. You have been a constant spring of laughter and joy, tears and heartache; as well as an endless source of support and belief. It is a bittersweet farewell, but you will be my best love, and the home I will always come back to.
