Sa bawat araw ng paggising sa ngiti ng batang gustong matuto, sa bawat hapon ng paggawa ng business proposal, at sa bawat gabi ng pag-iintindi sa trabaho sa org. Nadapa. Tumayo. Naglayag. Salamat, Ateneo. Patuloy pa rin akong makikinig at makikilahok sa mga kuwento ng iba. Patuloy pa rin akong magtataya.

A two-fold advice from an admittedly average Atenean: embrace yourself and dare to fail. Expand your horizons, but accept your limitations. Better be the mystery that you are than “quite” the personality that you’re not. Learn to be patient with yourself so you can do the same to others. There will be voices telling you that you can’t do it, and that’s okay. You will realize that victory is never as glorious without what you learn in failure. If you never lose hope, you will never lose.
