

MINOR IN PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Junen Bengamin S. Narito

From a transferee freshman in high school, I've known Junen as a shy guy who makes 100% good impressions on others. He's the kind of person whom you would want to hang out with because of his great humor, and I can say that whenever he's there, there will never be a dull moment. To the good and bad times, he'll be there for you. That's simply him, and that's what makes him family. (A. Moreno)

MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

Mary Marjorie Martha D. Nepomuceno

If there's one thing that the Ateneo has taught me, it would be that it is up to us to choose happiness. As Henry Nouwen puts it, "Joy does not simply happen to us. We have to choose joy, and keep choosing it everyday." We may experience hardships, but it is up to us to "steal joy," may it be in the form of everyday conversations, spontaneous outings with the block, or org dinners along Katipunan. With all the joys I've had in the past four years, I'm thankful to have found them in the Ateneo.
