

MINOR IN CREATIVE WRITING

Maria Nicola Sofia G. Lichauco

It's not every day that you meet someone like Nic. It is addicting to get caught up in her sincere love and humility, genuine curiosity, and open heart. On campus, you'll find her studying, praying, or plotting new ways to change the world. Her excitement for every little good thing and constant "I love you" reminders will never fail to brighten your day. Though she's almost blind, she sees the world more clearly than anyone I know. (C. Yupangco)

MINOR IN FRENCH STUDIES

Juan Kyle Nathan L. Lim

I sarcastically ask, "What can't Kato Lim do?" But really, it has truth. He is a brilliant academic, an inspirational leader, and a talented virtuoso driven always by a thirst to excel. A compassionate friend, he offers a hand without being asked to and without need for thanks. However, what is truly remarkable is that he remains graceful under pressure: smiling and laughing with his eyes on the horizon. A dreamer, an adventurer. He walks on the ground but sets his head in the sky. (D.S.)
