“I’m proud of you.”

Dessy Rae G. Bautista

Deih, never forget the compassion you have for humanity. We live in a world where it has become so easy to hurt people, but I hope you remember the ‘you’, who would never intentionally hurt anyone, especially since you have always been the type to hurt more than the person you’ve hurt. Your love for human beings is overwhelming, but I hope if such love hurts you in return, it will have all been worth it. (J. Chan)
