“To be successful, you must accept all challenges that come your way. You can’t just accept the ones you like.” (Mike Gafka)

Never stop exploring is one takeaway I got from college. It was in college when I really discovered who I am and what I am capable of. I have always looked down upon myself, but college urged me to step out from the dreading chant of “I can’t do it!” but instead “I can do this!” I discovered that I can be independent, do graphics through school work, and that there’s something about myself that people like which I thought of changing to fit in more. Truly, college was the happiest peak of my life.
