Erienne Lorane C. Yu

Erienne speaks of warmth, beauty, and character: serious but affectionate, cheerful but refined, simple yet unique. A friend full of spontaneous moments, meaningful laughter, and genuine conversations. Brimming with passion and ambition, she is well-focused and driven by her goal to succeed.

As she sets herself to greater heights, there is nothing but assurance that she will stay as the comforting and uplifting beam of light that she is – for nothing can dim the light that shines from within.

“Wherever you go, go with all your heart.”

It is in the Ateneo that I have learned that passion and heart do not just lie in what we do or where we choose to go, but also, and most especially, in the people we encounter. Through the friends, organizations, and communities that I have been with, I learned that people are and will always be worth giving my heart to.
